

CO WING CAP - BLACKSHEEP SQUADRON AIRCREW TRAINING FLOWCHART

START

LEGEND

Boxes in RED make up the Emergency Services (ES) process

Boxes in BLUE make up the Scanner process

Boxes in PURPLE make up the Observer process

Boxes in BLACK make up the Mission Pilot process

NOTES

- ALL CAP ES qualifications require completion of the ES process.
- Qualification as an Observer follows the same process as that for a Scanner, except that the Radio Operator course is required.
- Qualification as Scanner is a prerequisite to begin training as Mission Pilot or Observer.
- Mission Pilot trainees are expected to concurrently enroll in Observer training.

Revised: 31 Mar 03
J. Kolak, D. Bruce

What's the On-Line CAPT 116 and How Do I Take It?

This is an open-book multiple choice general emergency services test. First, you will need the following regulations to take the test: CAPR 60-1, CAPR 60-3, CAPR 60-4 Volumes I & II, CAPR 60-5 and CAPR 173-3. You can download these regulations from the CAP National Headquarter (NHQ) website <http://www.capnhq.gov/> by clicking on the "Publications" button. You can also purchase copies of regulations from the CAP bookstore by calling 1-800-633-8768. Copies of the regulations may also be available for purchase from the squadron testing officer.

To take the test, go to this website: <http://www.capnhq.gov/nhq/es/tests.html> and click on "Emergency Services Online Examinations" and then choose "Complete CAPT 116 (100 questions)".

It's recommended that you first go to the test website and print out all the questions because it will take a while to get through the whole test. Then circle the correct answers on your printed version and go back into the website to take the test. When you are done, print out the certificate of completion.

What's a CAPF 100?

This is the CAP form used to request the CAPF 101 card (CAP Specialty Qualification Card) and also the CAPF 101T cards (CAP Specialty Qualification Training Cards).

What's a CAPF 101?

This is a wallet-sized white card that lists all of the emergency services specialties for which you are qualified. Examples of these specialties are: General Emergency Services (GES), Mission Scanner, Mission Observer, and many others. You will be issued your basic CAPF 101 card after completing the CAPT 116 which qualifies you in the GES specialty.

What's a CAPF 101T?

This is a CAP form that lists all of the required training you must complete in order to get qualified for a particular emergency services specialty (such as Mission Scanner). There is a different CAPF 101T for each specialty. You must complete the items listed on the CAPF 101T in order -- this means that you must complete all "Prerequisites" before beginning the "Familiarization and Preparatory Training" and complete the "Familiarization and Preparatory Training" before beginning "Advanced Training."

"Familiarization and Preparatory Training" is called "Ground Training" on the Aircrew Training Flowchart.

You may possess up to three different CAPF 101T cards at one time.